Tesco drops its Newport store plans

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

It's back to the drawing board for supermarket giant after council planning officers slate Aston Martin site proposal

TESCO has withdrawn its plans for a supermarket in Newport Pagnell after they were slated by council officers.

A store on the old Aston Martin site could adversely affect the historic town centre, officers advised councillors, who were due to decide on an outline planning application tomorrow night.

However, the superstore chain announced it will make various changes before resubmitting the application.

Tesco's hopes of setting up shop on Tickford Street were met with 2,429 letters of objection - and just five in support.

The proposed 2,700 square foot store prompted the formation of pressure group, TESNO, who staged a funeral march in May to demonstrate the death of the town.

Its chairman Tom Lonergan said: "No doubt they will be back with some other scheme, but we know what to expect. We are not about to run away anywhere – after all we live here and we love living here.

"We are delighted with the honesty, professionalism and thoroughness of the planning officers' report which evidences overwhelming opposition to the Tesco application."

Andrew Maric, TESNO spokesman, added: "We would like to thank the officers for the detailed report, they must have had a lot of work to do with the thousands of people writing in."

The officers' recommendation is based on visibility being poor and the fact that Tesco would adversely impact upon the town centre's vitality and viability.

In fact, the report says the planning application fails to show that there is even a need for a Tesco.

Eoin Dardis, Tesco corporate affairs manager, said: "We have carried out extensive consultation on our original proposals and have received a number of positive suggestions that people would like to see included. We have learnt a lot as a result of consulting with local stakeholders and residents over the past few months. To get the best scheme for Newport Pagnell, we would now like to try to incorporate some of these ideas into revised plans and come back later in the year with new and improved proposals."

Street style entertainment wowed the crowds at the hub at the weekend. Round 3 of the popular National Street Entertainers competition took place at the venue on Saturday. The line-up included cutting edge street act The Grannies, Man in a Box and compere Jem Frazer, above.

Gary Nelmes, from Bletchley, was trying to scale Mont Blanc with a friend on Saturday when he fell 40 metres into a crevasse

OU manager dies in Mont Blanc fall

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A MOUNTAIN climber has died after falling 40 metres into a crevasse in the French Alps.

Gary Nelmes, from Bletchley, was trying to scale Mont Blanc with a friend on Saturday when the accident happened.

Local police confirmed the news yesterday and a spokesman from the Foreign Office said that Mr Nelmes' family had been informed.

The pair began their ascent on Saturday in good conditions but by early evening a severe storm had engulfed the mountain as they were walking across a glacier.

The specialist alpine gendarmerie said they received a distress call from Mr Nelmes' climbing partner and immediately launched a rescue mission.

The rescue team reached the area at around 7pm but Mr Nelmes had already died.

Marceau Goss, from the gendarmerie, claimed: "He was walking on the glacier with his friend but they didn't have any rope and he (Mr Nelmes) fell around 40 metres into a crevasse.

"On the day the conditions were good but when we arrived the weather was very bad and there was a bad storm. They were well prepared but they didn't walk with a rope on the glacier."

At 15,774ft, Mont Blanc is the highest mountain in western Europe.

Mr Nelmes had suffered multiple fractures when M Goss recovered his body from the bottom of the crevasse.

His friend returned home to the UK yesterday.

Mr Nelmes worked in the media department at the Open University in Milton Keynes, as a media project manager in learning & teaching solutions.

A spokesman for the OU said: "He was a highly-valued member of the team and a much-loved colleague. He will be greatly missed by everyone."

Mr Nelmes kept a detailed blog of his exploits online, which detailed his feelings about the climbing expedititon.

He wrote: "I'm fond of tales of gentlemanly exploration, tweed, pipes and casual acts of selfless heroism.

"There is a little part of me that wishes to disappear into the gathering cloud and be last seen 'going strongly for the top'."

He wanted to research and commission a copy of the sweater worn by George Mallory as he attempted to conquer Everest in 1924 and then to test it in the Alps.

"My plan is to tackle both the Traverse and Brenva Spur routes of the Mont Blanc massif wearing my replica sweater and clutching my pipe between my teeth.

"Then, if all goes well, I hope to be seen 'going strongly for a beer' in Chamonix before nightfall."

Chemists swamped by swine flu prescriptions

A PHARMACY has asked for back-up in distributing swine flu medicine because it has been inundated with hundreds of prescriptions.

Cox and Robinson, which has 12 outlets in Milton Keynes, volunteered for its Stony Stratford and Netherfield branches to dispense the anti-viral drug, Tamiflu.

Since then they have seen the numbers of prescriptions rise to more than 100 a day.

With three members of staff off work - two of whom were suffering from suspected swine flu - they asked the primary care trust for back up last week.

The PCT has now ensured a third pharmacy will assist them.

Now that the government has stopped releasing the numbers of confirmed cases, the amount of Tamiflu dispensed is the best gauge of the virus's impact in the city.

Cox and Robinson managing director Steve Allan said that, in one in ten cases, swine flu sufferers have defied advice and come to collect their prescription in person.

He said: "We still have our ordinary customers, home deliveries - and this is workload on top.

"The problem was that last week we ourselves were short of staff.

"We are feeling the pressure. We were seeing 30 people a day and it crept up to 80, 90, then into the 100s. We knew that they would have to set up a central distribution point if numbers began to overwhelm us.

"We recommended that centre, or another pharmacy, comes on board. Unless we recruit more staff just to do this service it could get out of hand."

A PCT spokesman said: "A third pharmacy has come on board. We can't say where they are so we keep stocks safe and so people don't all go there with symptoms.

"A central distribution point is something that would be set up further down the line. We are monitoring it closely to ensure they don't get overwhelmed."

Canal boat verdict blasted an 'insult'

Sister of stabbed man hits out after double murder charge is dropped

BY ROB GIBSON

THE sister of a man who was stabbed to death has blasted the legal system after William Cranston received 12 years for manslaughter.

Sue Wilkins, sister of Paul Wilkins, described the sentence as 'the final insult' after a jury at Kingston Crown Court reached a verdict of guilty of manslaughter on Wednesday.

Cranston, 44, a TV engineer from Stoke Hammond, stabbed his common-law wife, Kay Morton, and best friend, Mr Wilkins, on a narrowboat on September 7 last year.

Sue Wilkins said: "The 12-year sentence given to William Cranston is the final insult to the families of Paul and Kay.

"It's unbelievable that this crime could be considered anything other than murder, and that Cranston is likely to only serve five years for stabbing to death two people.

"I would like to highlight the fact that Mr Cranston's entire defence was his own version of events and none of Paul's family and friends believe this version.

"We will never know what happened on the boat that night.

"We can only console ourselves now with the knowledge that William Cranston will have to live with what he's done for the rest of his life and one day he will have to explain to his son how he came to kill his mother."

Cranston was originally charged with murder but the jury reached a unanimous verdict that he was guilty of manslaughter by reason of provocation.

During the trial the court heard that the attack took place on a narrowboat moored along the Grand Union Canal, Stoke Hammond, after Cranston caught Ms Morton and Mr Wilkins having sex.

He had been sleeping in the stern of the boat with his three-year-old son before he was woken during the night by a noise and picked up a kitchen knife.

Ms Morton, 39, died from a single stab wound to the heart and Mr Wilkins, 55, suffered multiple stab wounds.

Cranston called 999 to tell them what he had done and asked for an ambulance.

Speaking after the sentencing, Detective Superintendent Rob Mason said: "Even though this sentence offers little consolation to the families and friends who have lost Kay and Paul, it reflects the seriousness of the crime committed by Cranston on that tragic day.

"Manslaughter was not the verdict we were hoping for, but it shows the court felt Cranston was responsible for the deaths of Kay and Paul."

Council to cut jobs in effort to maintain priority services

MILTON Keynes Council has decided to make redundancies after admitting its financial problems at a meeting last week.

Last Tuesday was the first time councillors came together since leader Sam Crooks announced that cutbacks are necessary.

The Lib Dem cabinet passed a motion committing to make savings by redeployment, voluntary redundancy and early retirement of staff.

Councillors have already dipped below the safe reserve level of £8million and it is predicted that by 2012 there will be just £1.3m in the pot.

Cllr Crooks, who two weeks ago vowed to save £12million by 2012/3, said: "We put off dealing with this at our peril. What's containable now will become a crisis in a year or two."

Conservative Cllr Andy Dransfield told him: "My biggest concern is about the overall capacity of you and your cabinet to deliver this change. You've been at the helm in terms of finance for years.

"It begs the question – are you becoming the Gordon Brown of Milton Keynes Council? A person responsible for the finances, have you got this council into a mess? Have you taken leadership and now continue to drive this council down?"

Cllr David Tunney highlighted the £22.809m slippage on projects such as Radcliffe, Western Expansion Area infrastructure and Emerson Valley Sports Pavilion.

His fellow Tories raised the problem of the council's pension deficit of £124m.

Of the priorities set out in February's annual budget, Cllr Crooks is determined to maintain those relating to educational attainment, repairing roads, limiting the recession's effects and regenerating The Lakes Estate, Tinkers Bridge and Fishermead.

He says raiding some of the £17m reserves earmarked for bad debts, CCTV, insurance, landfill and repairs may be necessary.

Neighbour fined after ignoring noise order

A WOMAN has been fined for repeatedly making a noise.

Milton Keynes Council has secured its first Criminal Anti-Social Behaviour Order or CRASBO against the woman who ignored an official notice to keep the noise down.

Sandy Sainsbury, of Felbridge, Kents Hill, repeatedly ignored a statutory noise abatement notice from council environmental health officers to keep music and TV noise down. She has a previous criminal conviction for the same offence.

District Judge Maitland Davis, sitting at MK Magistrates' Court on Friday, heard how the officers issued a noise abatement notice against Ms Sainsbury, following numerous complaints from neighbours about late night music.

The notice was issued on November 10 last year, but she appeared in court on February 27 this year to admit breaching it and was given a conditional discharge for 16 months.

However, less than two months later, on two occasions in April, she again breached the notice.

In court she admitted the two April offences and was fined £100 on each count, and ordered to pay £300 in costs, after Judge Davis heard how Ms Sainsbury is in huge debt.

A conditional discharge will still run its full term.

She also received the CRASBO, which will allow the police to arrest her should she cause a noise nuisance again.

MK LETTERS

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Courtesy rules OK?

SIR – Of course we all deplore the behaviour of this individual cyclist but let's not react as Norman and use it as an excuse to villify all cyclists.

I am in all three camps – motorist, cyclist and pedestrian – and can assure him that bad (and good) behaviour comes from all.

As a cyclist (and pedestrian) I have often been forced off a redway onto the grass verge by pedestrian groups spreading themselves accross redways, and by irresponsible dog owners.

How many toddlers are killed every year by motorists who believe that they are entitled to speed, drink or use mobile phones while driving? Millions of pounds are spent every year trying to educate them.

There will always be irresponsible motorists, cyclists, pedestrians and dog owners who believe that the law and/or courtesy rules don't apply to them.

Let's not persecute one group, but ask why such selfishness permeates society in general.

Jeffrey Punter
Polruan Place, Fishermead

Triviality breeds contempt

SIR – On reading numerous negative letters about plainly trivial issues surrounding the new garden and food waste scheme, I would like to take this opportunity to inform the residents of Milton Keynes on its benefits.

Firstly the financial benefits that will be brought to taxpayers are outstanding.

Yes, set-up costs are initially high, but in the long run landfill tax is being decreased which allows residents to experience the pleasure of more services.

The council is able to redeem some of these expenses from the sale of compost to farmers.

Why would the Government waste time on a scheme that would not financially benefit them and the public?

I also find it absurd how many people are overlooking the benefits that such a scheme brings to farmers, and subsequently British agriculture.

Using such composted material reduces the need for artificial nitrate fertilisers.

People are often too quick to buy food without thinking about the processes involved in its production. If people could take time to look at the broader picture, perhaps they would value this scheme more, and not just see it as an inconvenience.

Many residents are complaining that the smell from the bins is foul. I have been wrapping my scraps in newspaper and have experienced no smell due to the absorption and containment it provides.

Personally, I would prefer a slight smell from my bin to watching vermin rip open bags and watch landfill sites rapidly expand.

Eventually, another landfill site will have to open, but this scheme is preventing that for as long as possible.

People hate landfill sites and will not support the scheme, yet will moan at the proposal of a new one.

In the defence of the person who suggested the use of the caddy, I think this is a brilliant idea.

Who wants to travel to the green bin after every meal or its preparation? If you learn to portion meals in the first place, then not only would the smell be curbed, but individual food costs will be reduced.

In response to Martin Sansom, would he suggest that the waste collectors lean in the truck to empty everybody's caddy? The trucks are designed to safely empty the green bins with the operator at a safe distance from the machinery. Secondly it is only the minority of people who only use the grey caddy, for those who only produce a small amount of waste perhaps they could share a bin with a neighbour.

C Dinwoodie
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – I find it quite disappointing (and dare I say depressing) to read in your letters page that two readers will not be using the new grey kitchen waste caddies.

We all have a duty to support the efforts of the council to increase the recycling of waste and reduce the level of residual waste sent to landfill.

I agree that the scheme is not fully thought out but, nevertheless, the council has provided an opportunity for residents to recycle food waste that otherwise would be treated as landfill.

Of course, every household will have differing amounts of food waste and garden waste so there will never be a ready-made solution that fits the requirements of every household.

I have already purchased paper bags to line the food caddy and this certainly does minimize the smell

For those who do not wish to purchase paper bags, then line the bin with a couple of sheets of newspaper.

I would like to know why we cannot recycle newspapers and magazines along with our kitchen waste in the green wheelie bins.

All these materials are biodegradable and this would make perfect sense. This would leave the pink sacks for tins and plastic bottles.

This scheme is long overdue and although it does require some tweaking, I truly believe all householders in MK ought to get behind this scheme and do their best to recycle as much and as often as possible.

Jonathan Forte
Oldbrook

■ SIR – With regard to the negativity shown towards the new food and garden waste scheme, people must look at the bigger picture.

To help save the environment, fewer toxic black bags etc dumped into landfill sites and greater resources to be redirected into areas where investment is needed to offer improved services.

As for wheelie bin hygiene, MK Bincare proffessionally clean and sanitise my bin every four weeks.

Design of city redways a real danger to users

SIR – Re: Hit and run cyclist.

The collision between the little boy Shae and the speeding cyclist is awful, and the cyclist's flight from the scene of an accident is reprehensible.

I am a regular cyclist and wish it to be known that we are not all this callous, nor are we as characterised by Norman last week 'boorish or delinquent'.

I do agree that some cycling training should be provided, and a bell is essential.

But I can shed more light on the why this accident happened.

The cyclist played his part, but so did the redway and the underpass.

Many times I have read in these pages comments from motorists (in arguments about pedestrians and cyclists on the grid roads) that 'the redways are safe', this stated with all the assurance of people with no knowledge of the true situation.

Let me state this plainly: the redways are poorly, and dangerously, designed – they were not specifically designed with cyclists, or indeed, mothers with pushchairs.

The underpass where this accident occurred is typical of many in the south of the city.

As a cyclist approaching this underpass you go down a fairly steep hill and at the same time you go round a blind corner, you then go under the bridge and up a steep hill which is also a blind corner.

Now if you are a regular cyclist, you gather speed on the downhill because you know you'll need the momentum on the uphill.

That's why this happened – I'm not saying it's right, but what I am saying is it's amazing that this doesn't happen more often.

Sadly, I can offer no solution The redways and the grid roads are set in stone and, I'm afraid, so is the fate of the future accident victims.

Welcome visit

SIR – I would like to thank Mark Lancaster MP for finding the time to come and visit our school, Germander Park.

The school has been an integral part of our community for many years, but sadly this often goes unnoticed.

Not only does our school provide a good foundation in education for our young people, but it also plays an active role in binding our diverse community together.

Mark's visit was an opportunity for the governors, head teacher, staff and children to show how well they have all done.

In recent years they have all contributed to raising the quality of teaching and level of achievement. The conversion of so many of the nearby family homes to bed-sits has had such a negative impact on local services, including our school that action was needed.

The governors, head teacher and staff have worked so hard to consult and involve our local community in the improvements at Germander Park.

As a result of their efforts we now have a thriving school, an active support group and a growing number of children for the new term.

Tax on motorists

SIR – I must congratulate your newspaper for highlighting the perverse 'hidden charges' that exist when using the recently introduced Pay by Text system.

I am one of the 2,000 people who signed-up believing that this system would bring an end to the problem of having too little or no change for the parking meter.

However, what the signs don't tell you is that every paperless ticket bought via text/call incurs a 30p surcharge.

It is yet another 'tax' on the motorists of Milton Keynes.

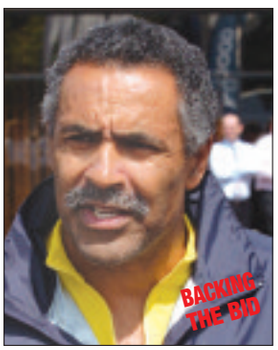
WORLD CUP HOST CITY BID

MK Council Leader Sam Crooks: "We already know we are more than up to the task – with our sporting facilities, transport links and support infrastructure, and our 'can do' attitude."

Mark Lancaster, MP for North East Milton Keynes: "It would really put Milton Keynes on the footballing map as well as bringing enormous benefits to the city's economy."

Former England captain and Under-21s manager, Stuart Pearce: "Football's taking off in Milton Keynes at the moment and the club are a big focal point of that community. On what I've seen, the infrastructure is great. It's a great model of a football club there."

Chairman of England 2018, Lord David Triesman: "I was in the new stadium in Milton Keynes a few weeks ago. With MK there's no reason to think they can't succeed."



Double Olympic gold winning decathlon athlete Daley Thompson: "It would be great for the community, because the community as a whole likes to feel valued. If they've got the right kind of facilities, whether it's pitches or stadiums, then why wouldn't Brazil want to come and base itself here? If you've got what it takes you have to throw your hat in the ring."

Local resident and former England cricketer Darren Gough: "I think Milton Keynes will definitely get one of the hosting spots. It's a great place for a team to come and play. I really, really enjoy Milton Keynes, it's brilliant for a family. It's got everything from ice skating, skiing, cinemas. Without a doubt I put my name behind the bid."

Dr Phyllis Starkey, MP for Milton Keynes South West: "I think Milton Keynes has a strong case to be successful. Apart from the fantastic stadium and a wonderful football team, we also have a strong diverse community who would welcome supporters and the teams."

Top names back World Cup host city bid

MK NEWS Backs the Bid

A HOST of star names have backed the MK NEWS campaign to bring the World Cup to Milton Keynes.

Last week judges from the Football Association visited Milton Keynes to assess its suitability as a host city for the World Cup.

Fifteen cities and towns have been shortlisted as bases for the 2018 or 2022 FIFA World Cup, should England be chosen as the staging country, but only 12 are likely to make the final cut in December.

Our readers have been logging on to the FAs website to register their votes and now dignitaries and sports stars have been having their say.

MK NEWS Backs the Bid and you can too by registering your vote with the FA - simply visit our homepage at www.mk-news.co.uk and click on the 'MK NEWS Backs the Bid' logo.

1,200 race for kids

MORE than 1,200 runners took part in the NSPCC's annual Milton Keynes Half Marathon on Sunday.

The race supported by MK NEWS hoped to raise £40,000 for local services including the NSPCC Milton Keynes School Team, which offers counselling and advice to children, young people and their carers on a range of child welfare matters.

Ezekial Chabon was the fastest male with a time of 1 hour 8 minutes 36 seconds and Becks Penty was the fastest female with a time of 1 hour 22 minutes 40 seconds.

The team challenge, sponsored by Kimbells came from Milton Keynes based accountants Baker Tilly Allstars.

Now in its 11th year, the NSPCC Milton Keynes Half Marathon, sponsored by English Partnerships and Kimbells Solicitors headed off from Bury Lawn School, Stantonbury. Headteacher of Bury Lawn School, John Moreland started the countdown to start the runners off on the 13.1 mile flat course through some of the city's most scenic pathways and the Grand Union Canal.

Runners limber up before the start of the race

Sally Phipps, NSPCC community fundraising manager for Milton Keynes said: "The weather was good conditions for running in and I would like to thank every individual and the team runners for all their hard work and commitment to making a real difference to the lives of vulnerable children.

Cops admit firearms safety breach

THAMES Valley Police has admitted breaching health and safety laws after a civilian was shot during a firearms training session.

The force's chief constable of Thames Valley Police pleaded guilty to breaching the Health and Safety at Work Act, at Southwark Crown Court on Thursday.

The officer involved in the case, PC David Micklethwaite, a firearms instructor from Coggeshall Grove, Wavendon Gate, pleaded not guilty to one count under the same act.

The Health and Safety Executive launched the prosecution after 999 operator Keith Tilbury was shot in the stomach at police headquarters on May 30, 2007.

An investigation into the incident was also carried out by the Independent Police Complaints Commission.

After the hearing, Deputy Chief Constable Francis Habgood issued a statement but it can not be published while legal proceedings involving PC Micklethwaite remain active.

Cupboard is bare: Anne Benning, a volunteer at Willen Hospice's warehouse in Kiln Farm has an empty bay behind her

Hospice is feeling squeeze as charity donations dry up

A CHARITY says donations to its shops have 'hit an all time low' due to the recession.

Willen Hospice, which relies on its shops to raise funds to provide care to over 400 terminally ill patients a year, is calling for people to donate their unwanted clothes and accessories.

The charity, based on the banks of Willen Lake, says people aren't buying as many new clothes and clearing out their old ones and believes there has been an increase in national charities appealing for donations directly to local households.

John Acres, shops and trading manager for the hospice, said: "We desperately need good quality clothes, bags and shoes to sell in our shops.

"We can also take textiles in any condition to sell on as rags."

Donations can be dropped off at the warehouse in Kiln Farm or any of the hospice's shops or at the Hospice in Willen Village.

Sex assaults not linked

POLICE are still hunting the man who sexually assaulted a 16-year-old girl on a Downs Barn redway.

Detectives announced yesterday that they are treating the June 17 assault as separate from three other attacks, for which two men have been charged.

DI Dave Dachtler said: "We are sure it is separate and the enquiry has come back to MK from the major crime team."

The assault happened on the H5 bridge at about 4.40pm.

Groundsman died after BBQ flare-up

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A THIRTY-YEAR-OLD man has died in hospital after suffering burns while lighting a barbecue.

Colin Hill, 30, from Gaddesden Crescent, Wavendon Gate died on Thursday, July 16.

The cause of his death has not yet been confirmed.

Mr Hill, who worked on grounds maintenence at Woodhill Prison, Tattenhoe Street, was married with a 14-year-old daughter.

The inquest heard that he was at home with his family on June 30 when he threw petrol onto a barbecue and sustained burns on around 18 per cent of his body including his neck, chest and arms.

Melinda Riley, coroner's officer said: "He managed to put the flames out himself by rolling on the grass.

"The back of the house also caught fire and Mr Hill and his wife Lisa managed to extinguish the flames."

Emergency services attended and Mr Hill was taken by ambulance to Milton Keynes Hospital.

He was transferred to Stoke Mandeville hospital on July 1 where he underwent a skin graft.

On July 3 he was suffering from a lack of oxygen and while medical staff were putting a tube into his wind pipe it accidentally went into the pipe leading to his stomach, the inquest heard.

Mr Hill was then 'extremely ill' and was taken to a specialist unit at Glenfield Hospital in Leicester.

He appeared to be recovering but on July 16 he deterioiated and died.

The inquest was adjourned until January to await the results of a postmortem.

A Woodhill spokesman said: "Colin Hill was a much respected friend and colleague at HMP Woodhill who made impact on many of the staff and prisoners he had contact with during the three and a half years he worked here.

"Colin will be missed by all of us here at HMP Woodhill and, rest assured, will never be forgotten with his own personal contribution remaining in our memory."

Lying face down for Facebook fun

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

PHONE boxes, dance floors, concrete cows... nowhere in Milton Keynes is safe from the latest online craze sweeping the country.

The Lying Down Game has taken the social networking website, Facebook, by storm in recent weeks, as participants challenge each other to take photos of people lying face down in odd locations.

Now the craze has reached Milton Keynes, with 600 members from the city forming their own online group and searching for humorous locations around town.

So far members have been pictured lying down in underpasses, redways, and bridges around the city as well as on bins, trees and sheds.

The Milton Keynes group was started by Jason Charles, co-founder of city club night Beatcheck, where a lying down 'flash mob' took place last Friday night at Opus.

Jason said: "Lying down is one of the easiest things to do but we've found a way of making it extreme.

"Even layabouts like me can be experts and they don't even have to put any effort into it."

Those participating in the game have to lie with their palms flat against their sides with the tips of their toes touching the ground.

Flasher drops his shorts to girls

A MAN exposed himself to two girls as they cycled through an underpass.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the incident at the underpass which goes into Cressey Avenue, Shenley Brook End, at around 5.10pm on Tuesday, July 21.

A man appeared from behind a bush and started to whistle as the girls cycled past. When they turned around he pulled down his shorts, exposing himself.

Both girls continued cycling away from the man and he appeared to go back into the bush.

The offender is white, aged in his 40s, of medium build and around 5ft 7ins. He has black hair which is greying on the sides and he was wearing dark blue shorts and a dark-coloured T-shirt. He was carrying a dark blue rucksack.

Anyone who witnessed the incident or saw a man in the area around the time of the offence matching the above description call PC Shaun Wood on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Little changes mean a lot for family's fitness

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A MOTHER and daughter are fighting their way back to fitness thanks to a health campaign aimed at families.

Carla Bussey, from Lowland Road, Tattenhoe, and her 12-year-old daughter Megan signed up for the Change4Life programme six months ago and now they are reaping the benefits.

The programme, run locally by NHS Milton Keynes, aims to improve people's eating and activity behaviours to help them live longer, happier, healthier lives.

Carla said: "We do the Wii Fit every day and Megan does football, netball swimming, walking. We are much more active now than we ever were before.

"It's not hard, it's just changing what you eat. We've done it together so we were learning at the same time."

Change4Life is aimed at children and families, concentrating on simple changes with ideas like 'Sugar Swaps', '60 Active Minutes', 'Me Size Meals' and '5 a Day'.

The focus is to encourage families to realise that living a healthier lifestyle need not be a chore or expensive.

Megan said: "I can run faster now and I can kick the ball. I've been playing more sports and it's really fun.

"You just have to choose the right foods, not the fatty ones that are bad for your body."

In Milton Keynes, children access the free Children's Activity Referral Scheme through their GP or other health professional.

Twelve families have successfully completed the scheme since January.

Through the scheme's success, the NHS hopes to reduce the costs associated with cardiovascular disease, certain cancers, obesity, type two diabetes and strokes.

Physical activity co-ordinator, Trudy Hosker, shows children that activity can be fun, while health promotion dietitians Gillian West and Katy Gooding educate families about healthy snacks, reading food packet labels and shopping on a budget.

Sarah Worbey, health promotion specialist at NHS Milton Keynes, said: "In Milton Keynes our health promotion professionals work hard to help local children and families make healthier choices but make sure they're enjoying it too.

"We're really proud of Carla and Megan's progress, they've done brilliantly. I really hope they inspire other families to take their lead in following a healthier lifestyle."

Cash prizes for role-model kids

A CONTEST aimed at showing the positive side of young people is back.

Causeway Young People of the Year (YOPEY) will be awarding £2,000 in cash prizes to youngsters who are good role models and give to others.

Last year 21-year-old Nikki-Louise, of London Road, Newport Pagnell, won £1,000 as Buckinghamshire Young Person of the Year 2008 for her efforts running cheerleading classes for disadvantaged children.

Seventeen-year-old Daniel, of Beanfare, beanhill,who cared for his late mother and helps run children's play schemes, was the junior winner, picking up £500.

Schools, colleges, youth organisations, churches, charities and other bodies that work with young people and family and friends can nominate a person aged between 10 and 25 who lives, studies, or works in Buckinghamshire and gives to others in this country or abroad.

A young person can even nominate themselves.

The winner's prize money is shared equally with their chosen good cause.

To nominate log on to www.yopey.org or write to Young People of the Year, PO Box 103, Hare Street, Ware, SG9 OXD, enclosing a stamped addressed envelope, for an entry form.

Summer in the city for Chernobyl kids

ELEVEN victims of the Chernobyl disaster are spending their summer in Milton Keynes.

They have come from Belarus to stay with families for four weeks for activities and care which help their shattered immune systems.

The visit is organised by the Friends of Chernobyl's Children charity and it is the eighth year Milton Keynes has been part of the project.

This year the highlight of their stay was the three days stay at the Quarries Scouting Camp at Cosgrove.

Kim Jeffery, charity secretary who also has two Russian children staying with her, said: "When they come here for a month it actually increases their life spans.

Their immune systems are very weak from the Chernobyl disaster, but a month is long enough to give them a boost, for them to go to the optician and dentist.

They have an absolutely lovely time, they think it's wonderful here."

The charity is looking for more families to take in children.

If you are interested, contact Kim on 01908 330826 or e-mail Kjeffery5@homtmail.com

Work set to start on Bedford canal link

WHAT could be one of the great projects of the 21st century will be kick-started on Tuesday.

The proposed £170m Bedford & Milton Keynes Waterway will reach a milestone when work begins on the underpass which carries it under the A421.

The 26km waterway will run from the junction with the Grand Union Canal at Milton Keynes to the junction with the Great Ouse at Kempston.

Jane Wolfson, chairwoman of the B&MK Waterway Trust, said: "These are the first tangible signs that the waterway has progressed from an idea that might happen to an idea that can happen. Not only does it have the potential to become one of the great projects of this century, but to become also an iconic feature of the central Bedfordshire landscape."

Other developments include the installation of the waterway's first interpretation board at the Marston Vale Forest Centre and the purchase of a parcel of land to ease the passage of the waterway from Stewartby to Kempston.

Earlier this year Bedford MP Patrick Hall MP persuaded the Government to extend the secondment of a skilled civil servant to the Waterway Trust.

Richard Wood was transferred from his Whitehall desk to work full time at Government expense negotiating with landowners and local councils to secure the line of the waterway.

This arrangement was due to end in April but Local Government Minister Iain Wright MP agreed to Mr Hall's request that Mr Wood be allowed to stay in his current job until the end of December, provided that funding be available to repay the costs incurred after August 1.

Girls ring bell in New York

FROM Madcap to Nasdaq – the cast of a Milton Keynes play rang the famous bell at the close of trading in New York on Friday.

Actresses from Girls Night, written by the Milton Keynes playwright Louise Roche, had the honour of ringing the bell.

The event was broadcast live on CNN and CNBC and in Times Square on a seven story high screen.

The preceeding speech gave mention to Louise, her director husband, and Milton Keynes.

The mother of three set up the Goodnights Entertainment theatre company in 2003 and staged the shows at Madcap Theatre, Milton Keynes.

Girls Night became a hit British musical and has been touring the USA since 2007.

The victim, who has not been identified, was taken to Milton Keynes General Hospital with serious injuries but died on Monday in hospital, nine days after the crash.

An inquest will be opened by the Milton Keynes Coroner on Tuesday, August 4.

CAFE ROUGE
thehub, Avebury Boulevard 01908 241709
Review by Rob Gibson

A NEW summer menu hopes to attract diners to Cafe Rouge in the city centre this month but the gods were not on the same page when we arrived during torrential rain, in the middle of July.

While there is nothing surprising about the British summer, there were a few pleasant differences about this restaurant.

Some Cafe Rouge venues that I have visited feel cramped and dark but the Milton Keynes branch is airy and has plenty of room for the busy lunch crowds.

On the downside our waitress said there were no olives because the delivery had not arrived, and creme brulee was also off the menu.

On the upside the food we did sample was fantastic.

We started with bread, delicious garlic-loaded dips, and a Coke.

Next we tried the Petit Assiette Campagnarde, an individual platter of cured meats including sauccison and serrano ham, Camembert d'Isigny, chicken liver parfait, gherkins and slices of white and wholemeal baguette.

Cafe Rouge caters for those looking for a quick, light lunch with a glass of wine but also those with a healthier appetite.

My 7oz prime sirloin was perfectly cooked, medium rare, served with French fries, watercress and beurre maison.

The house rose is another new addition to the menu and went down smoothly.

My guest shamelessly ordered the Baguette Poulet after admitting having eaten one just days earlier and adding that it was so good it was all she ever ordered.

It was served with oregano Dijon mayonnaise and fries.

Her dessert was an evil, rich tarte au chocolat, made with Belgian couverture served with creme Chantilly.

I chose the pave au chocolat, a proven favourite; warm chocolate and walnut brownie topped with luxurious melted chocolate ganache and vanilla ice cream.

When the sun comes out I could be tempted out for the summer menu, which includes a mushroom and tarragon quiche and crab salad, but the rest is all-weather and equally appetizing.

DISCOVER MK

You can help to write MK's history

DID you ever think that a cleaner can also be a canoe instructor as well as a script-writer in his spare time? Or that a security guard feels that the most important part of his job is helping people - with first aid, or finding a lost child?

For the next four weeks in the city centre's Discover Milton Keynes Showcase, you can find out for yourself the surprising sides to what sound like very ordinary occupations. This new free exhibition focuses on tales from local people who are more than they seem.

A Day in the Life of CMK can be seen until August, 19, Monday to Saturday, 10am to 6pm, and includes not only these special Milton Keynes tales, but also films and snippets from some of the many people who participated in the 'Day in the Life' day. Their diaries, photos and mementoes of the day provide a unique slice of Milton Keynes life for future generations to wonder at.

The Showcase also has on offer many Milton Keynes souvenirs from CDs and cows and cuff links to books about the area as well as 'Milton Keynes Rocks!' the sticky sweet kind!

If you too would like to get involved in helping write Milton Keynes' next chapter of its history, go to Showcase website on www.discovermiltonkeynes.co.uk, or contact the showcase manager Cheryl Butler on MK 200557, or email her on discov-ermk@googlemail.com or visit the Showcase in person, on the outside of thecentre:mk, between doors 7 and 9, at 672 Silbury Boulevard, CMK.

Growing plants for butterflies and bees

MAURICE RUST

A RED Admiral butterfly is one of the most picturesque sights in an English garden, or flying from flower to flower in a country meadow. They add a new dimension of colour and life to the garden.

To the vegetable gardener to see a Cabbage White butterfly on the allotment they are viewed with dread.

With bees we naturally think of honey and all things sweet. Bees, like butterflies, are in decline with global warming, modern farming methods, many front gardens being paved over for car parking, their natural habitats are changing through the intervention of man.

We gardeners in our own small way can help address the balance.

Butterflies will find their way into most gardens and will stay there if there is something to eat.

Many native plants are good for supplying food to butterflies and bees

Butterflies need nectar, the honeydew from aphids or sugar from over ripe fruit or flowers for energy to mate, lay eggs and to fly around.

Your chance of attracting reasonable numbers of butterflies and bees to your garden are greatly increased by planting suitable plants and flowers. It is not just a case of having different flowering plants at different times of the year but having enough of each to make visible display with strong scent to attract the butterflies and bees in the first place. Butterflies also love warmth, shelter and sunshine.

To create a butterfly garden find a sunny but sheltered area. If you have not got a large garden, plant up a butterfly container with summer flowering bedding plants. Or allow a small area of garden or lawn. Allow these areas to return to growing their natural weeds and let the flowers to set their seed.

There is a large choice of colourful plants and shrubs available to attract butterflies and bees to your garden.

If you have space in your garden or in a position where their spread can be retained, try to make some space for a wild garden or a meadow garden.

There are many wild flower seed mixtures available today.

Cultivate to soil before sowing the seed, do not add any fertilizer to the soil before sowing in the spring

Once germinated and established you will have many beautiful wild flowers that butterflies and bees will enjoy for years to come.

If you can find a space for a clump of stinging nettles they are a great host plant for butterflies to lay their eggs. Nettles provide food for the caterpillars of the Red Admiral, Painted Lady, Peacock and small Tortoiseshell butterflies

I hope I have been able to give you some inspiration to grow plants to encourage butterflies and bees to your garden.

If you would like any further information contact me at the Frosts Garden Centre, Woburn Sands

SIMON DARNELL

AUDACITY OF HUGE

Simian Mobile Disco

I'M trying to be nice here, but I fear that's not how it's going to read. Stuff it, I'll say it anyway.

This sounds like Simian Mobile Disco were trying to reimagine Billy Joel's We Didn't Start The Fire in the style of Calvin Harris. Actually, that seems even ruder in print than it did in my head, but it really is the best way I can think of to describe this song.

You can dance to it if you like, but while you're doing that the singer's naming all sorts of famous people and gadgets that he's apparently got, ranging from Bill Murray through to the Sultan of Brunei, Mama Cass, DAT players (kids, ask your parents) and tennis kits dipped in honey – which is probably not the ideal way to play the game, but as I don't play tennis I'm in no position to say for definite.

Mental, I'm sure you'll agree, but not as mental as the way the chorus is sung. When the vocals for the chorus were recorded, there must've been a sizeable cash prize for the most ridiculous sounding rendition and I'm guessing the prize was shared.

Despite all that though, this is actually not bad. Funny how things work out, innit?

REMEDY

Little Boots

KYLIE Minogue, Sophie Ellis-Bextor, La Roux, Cascada, the Saturdays, Girls Aloud, the Sugababes and Girls Can't Catch (of whom we'll probably hear more from later) amongst others – all of those people will probably be kicking themselves for not writing this song before Little Boots, and do you know why?

Because this has either got Career-Building-Number-One-Hit or Guaranteed-Career-Rescuing-Smash-Hit written all over it, depending on who would've picked it up, that's why.

This is pop music that's been filtered through mountain springs, coffee makers and great big lumps of charcoal right up to the point where it's 100 per cent pure.

Sometimes you get proper pop songs that are utterly devoid of personality and that's why they're rubbish, but not this one. This song is miles away from the sound of her previous single, which is probably her way of saying 'Didn't like New In Town? Well, that's not all I do, so stick this in your pipe and smoke it'.

Basically, what it comes down to is this – you know when you achieve something and think to yourself, 'I've absolutely nailed it, there's no way that could've gone better?' Well, Little Boots has nailed it here.

Advertorial

Making the impossible possible

Wilson Peacock welcome new exclusive mortgage product launched by Countrywide designed with first time buyers in mind

Countrywide Mortgage Services, the UK's largest mortgage broker, is today launching an exclusive mortgage product, designed with first time buyers in mind, which is available through your Wilson Peacock branch locally.

At a time when many mortgage customers require a 20 or 30 percent deposit, Countrywide has unveiled a mortgage product that requires only ten percent deposit in the market. The five year exclusive mortgage product has a 90 percent loan to value (LTV) available for first time buyers struggling to raise a deposit.

The news comes as Countrywide Mortgage Services reveals the popularity of longer term fixed mortgage deals, as speculation over future interest rate rises.

As concern over the recovery of the economy continues, Countrywide's research indicates that more customers are opting to secure themselves with a longer term fixed rate in order to shelter themselves from the risk of any sudden changes to the mortgage market.

In the month of June, 6 of Countrywide's top 10 mortgages sold were 3-5 year fixed rate deals - a strong indicator that longer term fixed products are in most demand.

Pete Wallace, MD said: "We're pleased to see Countrywide launch innovative mortgage products that reflect what our customers want. We have a team of professional Mortgage Consultants ready to talk about exclusive products you won't find elsewhere on the high street."

Unlike many mortgage products, this month's exclusive deal has no arrangement fee and includes a £500 cash back incentive, which significantly reduces the cost of moving.

The cash back offer is available for a limited time period and provides an opportunity for customers to save, furnish their new home or settle other costs in the home moving process, like surveyor fees and legal costs.

Countrywide Mortgage Services employs nearly 800 consultants across the country with a team of consultants based throughout Wilson Peacock extensive branch network.
Erik Lenbergs, Financial Services Director said:

"Buyers with small deposits have found it particularly difficult to take advantage of reduced house prices and a majority of mortgage products available to first time buyers over the last quarter have required a 15- 25* percent deposit on average - which has been unobtainable for many.

There are a number of opportunities and products available for first time buyers, local home movers and landlords looking to invest and enjoy a bigger return than their savings account can provide. Our advice is to move quickly as the best mortgage products are often available for limited periods."

Local mortgage customers can access information on hundreds of mortgage products and government home ownership housing schemes by visiting their local Wilson Peacock office or www.wilsonpeacockestateagents.co.uk

To find out more about the latest mortgage options available to you locally, contact your local Wilson Peacock branch and ask about their exclusive mortgage offers.

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

HIGHWAYS AGENCY
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 - SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE A421 TRUNK ROAD (WOOTTON AND KEMPSTON, BEDFORDSHIRE) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2009

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the A421 Trunk Road in Bedfordshire to allow for bridge construction works in connection with the A421 Improvements M1 Junction 13 to Bedford scheme to be carried out in safety.

It is expected that the works affecting traffic would take place in three phases. The works to install the bridge beams at Fields Road bridge would take place overnight 9pm Mondays - Thursdays to 5am the following mornings and 11pm Fridays to 7am the following mornings, with the first phase beginning on, or after, Tuesday 1 September 2009 and last for up to 2 weeks until the work is completed.

The second phase involving a full carriageway closure to install the bridge over the Bedford to Bletchley railway line at Marsh Leys railway would begin on or after 11.00pm on Friday 23 October 2009 and continue through to 05.00am on Monday 26 October 2009 August. If the works are not completed during this weekend they may continue the following weekend on Friday 30 October 2009 to Monday 2 November 2009.

The third phase for further construction works on the Fields Road bridge would take place overnight 9pm Mondays - Thursdays to 5am the following mornings and 11pm Fridays to 7am the following mornings, beginning on, or after, Monday 2 November 2009 and last for up to 3 weeks until the work is completed.

The Order would come into force on 3 August 2009 and have a maximum duration of 18 months.

The effect of the Order would be to close the A421 in both directions between its roundabout junctions with Beancroft Road, Marston Moretaine and Marsh Leys junction for the Fields Road bridge construction works and between Marsh Leys junction and the A6 for the Marsh Leys railway bridge construction works. Diverted traffic would be directed via the A507 and A6 for access to or from the M1 Junction 13.

The closures (which would not apply to works vehicles, emergency service vehicles, traffic officer vehicles or vehicles requiring access to or from premises on the trunk road) and diversion routes would be clearly signed throughout the works period.

Advertorial

New name, same great Wayside service.

Adrian Wallington with his dedicated Sales and Aftersales team pictured at the newly named Milton Keynes Audi.

On 1st August Wayside Audi is changing its name to Milton Keynes Audi.

For over 25 years Wayside has been the name over the door at Audi's flagship centre in Milton Keynes but now the name is changing to Milton Keynes Audi. This is in line with the Audi brand's national policy and is part of the Wayside Group's long term strategy as it grows and expands for the future.

Milton Keynes Audi is still owned and operated by the Wayside Group which now also includes Amersham Audi and Hitchin Audi.

John Caney, recently appointed as Managing Director for the Wayside Group said "There won't be many people in Milton Keynes who haven't heard of Wayside. We employ over 600 people and our head office is based here too. We have been totally committed to the city, and the Audi brand, since we started and now that is being reflected in the change of name at our local Audi Centre."

"Wayside has always been a family business and, whilst the name may be changing, our dedicated sales and service team at Milton Keynes Audi certainly isn't. Their focus on customer care and service has always been second to none - so nothing's changed there!"

Milton Keynes Audi includes a new car showroom, a dedicated Approved Used Audi showroom and an extensive, state-of-the-art Audi service centre.

There is no bad weather.

We think the pleasure of driving with your roof down shouldn't be limited to those few days when the weather is perfect. That's why the new Audi A5 Cabriolet is available with a head-level heating system that keeps you warm when it's cold. And special leather seats that stay cool when it's hot.

Visit Milton Keynes Audi to find out more.

Quality service at affordable prices...

Our customers come from all over the country because of our good name and personal service. Our workshop is not housed behind a flashy reception area where you hand your keys over and your car disappears not to be seen again until you pay your bill. We run an open workshop where the customer is shown what's wrong with their car and you can discuss the solutions with the engineer.

Servicing to above main dealer standards. Audi trained technicians.

MKSPORT THE BEST FOR ALL THE NEWS ON THE DONS

Gap at the top down to five points

CRICKET

Morrants Four Counties League DIVISION ONE

FIVE points separate leaders Eaton Bray and New Bradwell.

Eaton Bray drew for the fifth time this season, allowing New Bradwell, who beat North Crawley, to make up more ground.

Lead by a strong innings from Paul Harris (71), and support from Wes Hoskins (40) and Gary Ellerton (39not out) Eaton reached 199-8.

But a stubborn 46 from Andy Goldberg, who also claimed 3-49, helped Cublington to 122-8 to earn a share of the points.

Elsewhere New Bradwell (141-8) claimed a two wicket win over North Crawley.

North Crawley were dismissed for 137 thanks to Zaheer Ahmed's 5-19, and Bradwell lost eight wickets on their way to collecting 25 points.

A seventh draw has not lifted Newport Pagnell off the bottom of the table.

Mick Page hit an unbeaten 87 as Newport set a target of 167-9, but Aspley Guise held out to 150-7.

Winslow Town are in sixth place after beating Old Bradwell by three wickets.

Old Bradwell went in to bat first and were able to reach 150, but Winslow had Callum Price (98) at the crease in good form to guide them to victory.

Cherwell League DIVISION ONE

BLETCHLEY Town lost to Dinton by 52 runs but still moved into sixth place.

There are now 25 points separating Park and bottom team Banbury.

Dinton were first in to bat, and Ghufran Mohammed (5-42) and Graham Simpson (4-40) helped dismiss them for 188.

Unfortunately for Bletchley the batting did not go to plan as Simpson was out for four, yet they managed to steady the ship to 50-1.

However, a collapse then came as they stumbled to 63-5 before struggling to 136 all out.

Matt Morgan took 4-40 and Tim Brooker 3-24 for Dinton.

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford are in seventh following a five wicket win over Peterborough Town.

Home side Peterborough won the toss and decided to bowl.

The decision backfired as Stony's opening batsman Graeme Carter was dismissed four runs short of his century.

Skipper Dion Ebrahim support with a helpful 32 and Jarrod Pretorius added half a century as Stony ended their innings on 230.

Peterborough went in to bat with only Asim Butt (43) and Imran Abbas (39) putting in good innings.

Stony bowler Steve Bellew took a brilliant 6-46 as Peterborough were dismissed for 225.

Webber on the Button

Mark Webber in for a pitstop during qualifying for the Hungarian Grand Prix

MOTOR RACING

MARK Webber has closed the gap on Formula One World Championship leader Jenson Button.

The Red Bull Racing driver held off late pressure to secure third place at the Hungarian Grand Prix, and move into second in the driver's standings.

Button is now just 18.5 points ahead of his Brawn car struggled through in seventh, in fact it was a profitable day for Webber as he finished in front of the title challengers.

For the first time this season the race was dominated by world champion Lewis Hamilton, even though most expected another one-two for Red Bull.

And with Sebastian Vettel starting in second, and Webber in third they stood a good chance, until a tangle on the first corner.

Vettel collided with Kimi Raikkonen at the beginning of the race, and was forced to pit early to change his front and rear wing. But damage to the suspension proved too much for the car and the German was forced to retire.

It was team mate Webber who benefited from Vettel's retirement as he moved hot on the heels of Button.

Webber, who agreed terms last week to stay with Red Bull in 2010, grabbed the team's eleventh podium finish of the season.

He said: "Overall we still have a lot of positives to take away from here we're still up there, we're in the hunt and know that we can take our car to a lot of venues and be competitive. Red Bull and Renault have a lot to be proud of, we're still a strong force and it's a positive day."

FOOTBALL

Dons' stopper search

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons are in the transfer market looking for a central defender.

It comes after the news that Sean O'Hanlon will not feature for the side until 2010.

The defender has been ruled out following knee surgery, and with the new season starting in ten days time Paul Ince is keen to sign a replacement.

The Dons boss handed trials to the former Crystal Palace player Darren Powell and ex-England centre back Ugo Ehiogu in a search to have an experience head in the back line.

Not only are the Dons without O'Hanlon, but fellow defender Danny Swailes is still not back to match fitness.

Last season Swailes featured once for the club, and is currently still working through his rehabilitation programme.

Dons assistant manager Karl Robinson says it is important they get the right man for the job, he said: "The likes of Ugo and Powelly have great pedigree. You can see the quality he's (Ehiogu) got, we just need to make sure he can keep himself fit."

Both Ehiogu and Powell featured in the Dons' 2-1 defeat at Rushden and Diamonds at the weekend.

Dons named a strong side as they stepped up their pre-season preparations, and at times played the neat football Ince and Robinson have asked of them, yet at others they stuttered.

Robinson said: "It got better. In the first half some fantastic passing moves that we need to repeat more often and the fitter we get the more often that will happen."

Mark Carrington opened the scoring in the second half with a strike from the edge of the box, but Rushden pulled the score level fifteen minutes from time.

Rushden's Aaron O'Connor was a handful all afternoon, and he continued to be a nuisance when he controlled the ball on his chest then struck from close range.

And it was the striker who grabbed the winner minutes before the final whistle.

Despite the result Robinson appeared pleased the players had taken part in a competitive match, and believes there is plenty more to come with the likes of Peter Leven, Aaron Wilbraham, Jude Stirling and Jabo Ibehre still to return from injury.

■ FANS have been invited to an open training session at stadiummk on Monday, August 3. The first team will train, then take part in a autograph session. Entry, at 10.45am, is free for season-ticket holders and members, otherwise £1.

■ MK Dons Sport and Education Trust have set up a ladies team who will compete against the likes of Tottenham Hotspur and Ipswich Town this season.

MK Dons Ladies FC will play in the South East Combination League and the season will start in earnest on Sunday, August 16 away at Lewes before matches against local rivals Ipswich Town, Northampton Town and Norwich City, with a double header against Tottenham due in January.

The Ladies team are officially sponsored by Personal Group, who have agreed a new partnership the Dons, and their logo will appear on the shirt.

The Ladies will play their home games at Newport Pagnell Town's Willen Road, and their first season will include matches in the FA Cup, League and County Cup.

Chairman Sue Meekcom said: "These are definitely exciting times for us all as we look to begin our first season as MK Dons Ladies FC."

On Saturday the Ladies will play Tottenham at stadiummk as part of their pre-season programme.

BASKETBALL

Lions make double signing

MK Lions have announced the double signing of Dawud Morris and Eddie Morrison.

Morris, a 6ft 6ins forward, joins from Philadelphia college side Cheyney University where he helped them to their first conference championship in 18 years during the 2006-07 season.

The following year his was instrumental in the team winning the division title.

Coach Vince Macaulay said: "We wanted to be a lot more athletic this season but also wanted someone with a big heart, Dawud was recommended to us personally by Kelvin Robinson, who next to Victor Payne has the biggest heart of anyone ever in a Lions uniform.

"The last player to be recommended to us by an ex-Lion was Terrell Brown and if Dawud has his kind of time here, I will be delighted."

Morris added: "I am very happy to get my professional career up and running with Milton Keynes, I have heard a lot about the club and will be proud to wear the jersey"

Morris is set to replace Jayson Obazuaye.

Meanwhile, Morrison returns to MK following a successful debut season with the Lions. The 6ft point guard averaged just over eight minutes a game, and hit a season high 13 points against Everton Tigers.

Wolves tamed by Dons

MK DONS 1 WOLVES 0
stadiummk
Pre-season friendly

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

Wolves' Richard Stearman gets in a tackle to clear from Luke Chadwick as Jermain Easter and defender Ronald Zubar wait to pick up the pieces

PAUL Ince guided MK Dons to a 1-0 win over his old side Wolverhampton Wanderers last night.

Jermaine Easter's first-half strike was enough for the Dons to take the bragging rights in the friendly against the Premier League side.

After a slow start the Dons found their rhythm in the 4-5-1 formation and Ince, in his first home game since returning to stadiummk, would have been impressed.

Wolves could have opened the scoring with ninety seconds on the clock had trialist Jerome Thomas kept his nerve in front of goal.

A cross from Sylvan Ebanks-Blake flashed across the box, only for Thomas to blaze over from 12-yards.

Wolves, who started with four full internationals in their side, were organised at the back and well supported by the midfield.

While Ince continued to give ex-England defender Ugo Ehiogu the chance to win a contract at the club.

When the Dons interrupted play they often looked bright on the wings with Luke Chadwick and Jemal Johnson pushing forward to support Easter.

It took eleven minutes for the Dons to test Wayne Hennessey and it came from a Johnson free-kick, which dipped in front of the keeper but proved to be a comfortable save.

At the other end Willy Gueret was kept on his toes but Ebanks-Blake twice wasted opportunities.

Dons began to come into the game playing some neat one-touch football.

And soon the Dons were ahead following quick thinking from keeper Gueret who collected a well-struck overhead effort from Sam Vokes and launched the ball upfield.

Richard Searman failed to pick up possession which allowed Easter in, and he smashed the ball under Hennessey.

Wolves came out fighting in the second-half with Ebanks-Blake still the main threat for Mick McCarthy's team.

After the hour mark Ince brought on trialists Sol Davies and Phil Ifill in place of Ehiogu and Danny Woodards, while Lewis Gobern replaced Howell.

In an interesting move skipper Dean Lewington slotted in at centre back and Ifill went to the left.

A second goal almost came the Dons way when Gobern beat Matt Hill on the left, turned inside and whipped in a cross for Easter, but he didn't connect with his header and sub goalie Carl Ikeme scooped the ball.

Both sides rung the changes in the second half.

Yet the chances that fell Wolves way went begging, Andy Keogh missing the final chance to draw level with a free header from ten yards.

MK DONS: Gueret, Ehiogu (Davis 64), Lewington, McCracken, Gleeson, Easter (M Powell 80), Johnson (D Powell 84), Carrington, Woodards (Ifill 64), Howell (Gobern 64), Chadwick (Partridge 72).
